VALENTINE'S DAY GONE WILD

FRESNO, Ca. – On Saturday, February 14, animals at Fresno Chaffee Zoo will receive Valentine treats made with love by the animal care staff and volunteers. Throughout the day the animals will be given sweet treats as part of the Zoo's enrichment program which is designed to stimulate natural behaviors in the animals such as foraging and play.

While we may enjoy receiving a traditional box of chocolates, the Zoo's animals including elephants, orangutans and birds, will savor their own favorite delicacies. And although the animals won't be dabbing fragrance behind their ears, they will be stimulated by the smell of sweet perfume.

Zoo visitors will be given a schedule of enrichment activities as they enter the Zoo on February 14.

10:00	Australian Aviary
10:30	Orangutans and siamangs
11:00	Binturongs
11:30	Red ruffed lemurs
12:00	Elephants
12:30	Bear
1:00	Anteaters and coatimundis
1:30	Serval and guenons
2:00	Peccaries
2:30	Prehensile-tail porcupines
3:00	Birds of prey
